

PLANES DE ESTUDIO

TI3035

Introduction to Professional Development

SPANISH

CIP: 110101 Computer and Information Sciences,
General.

C-L-U: 2-0-2

Academic department that offers it:
Information Technologies

Graduate Programs who offer them:
9 INT11, 9 ISC11, 9 ITC11, 9 ITIC11, 9 LATI11
Certificates

Requirement:
None.

Equivalence:
None.

General aim of the course:
Upon completion of this course, students will have reviewed the topics that are most relevant to their major and have acquired the tools and information needed to seek employment.

Teaching and learning techniques:
Not Specified

Bibliography:
TEXT BOOKS:
* Moses, Barbara, What next?, 1st American ed., New York : DK Pub., 2003, , 0789493551 (papel alcalino)

Professor's profile:
Master Degree in Information Systems Management; Master Degree in Computational Sciences; Master Degree in Computer/Information Sciences; Master Degree in Engineering; Master Degree in Electrical Engineering/ Electronics and Communications; Doctoral Degree in Information Systems Management; Doctoral Degree in Computational Sciences; Doctoral Degree in Computer/Information Sciences; Doctoral Degree in Engineering; Doctoral Degree in Electrical Engineering/ Electronics and Communications
CIP: 521201, 110701, 110101, 140101, 141001

Language of Instruction: